

Presidents' Day Humor

- I have left orders to be awakened at any time in case of national emergency, even if I'm in a cabinet meeting'.
Ronald Reagan
- Donald Rumsfeld is giving the president his daily briefing. He concludes by saying: 'Yesterday, 3 Brazilian soldiers were killed'. 'OH NO!' President Bush exclaims. 'That's terrible!' His staff are stunned at this display of emotion, they watch nervously as the President sits, head in hands. Finally, the President looks up and asks, 'How many is a brazillion?'
- Why do Americans choose from just two people to run for president and 50 for Miss America?

President Clinton

Asked about his views on euthanasia, Clinton replied, "Youth In Asia are just like kids everywhere else."

When Clinton was asked what he thought about foreign affairs, he replied, "I don't know. I never had one."

Meet the President: A True Funny Tale

When Will Rogers was being taken to the White House to meet President Calvin Coolidge, Vice President Dawes cautioned him not to try to be funny because the President had no sense of humor whatsoever.

Undaunted, Rogers bet Dawes that he could have Coolidge laughing within 20 seconds.

When the formal introduction was made, Dawes began by saying, "Mr. President, may I introduce my friend, Mr. Will Rogers."

Rogers held out his hand with a questioning look and said, "Pardon me, I didn't quite get the name."

Coolidge roared with laughter, and Rogers won the wager.

Lemons

A woman applying for a job in a California lemon grove seemed to be over-qualified for the job. The foreman glowered at her. "Have you had any actual experience in picking lemons?" "Oh, yes, definitely!" she exclaimed. "I've been divorced five times, owned 5 Ford Escorts, and I voted for Clinton, Bush and Obama."

Old Man at the White House

An old man approached the White House from across Pennsylvania Avenue, where he'd been sitting on a park bench. He spoke to the U.S. Marine standing guard and said, "I would like to go in and meet with President Bush."

The Marine looked at the man and said, "Sir, Mr. Bush is no longer president and no longer resides here."

The old man said, "Okay", and walked away.

The following day, the same man approached the White House and said to the same Marine, "I would like to go in and meet with President Bush."

The Marine again told the man, "Sir, as I said yesterday, Mr. Bush is no longer president and no longer resides here."

The man thanked him and, again, just walked away.

The third day, the same man approached the White House and spoke to the very same U.S. Marine, saying "I would like to go in and meet with President Bush."

The Marine, understandably agitated at this point, looked at the man and said, "Sir, this is the third day in a row you have been here asking to speak to Mr. Bush. I've told you already that Mr. Bush is no longer the president and no longer resides here. Don't you understand?"

The old man looked at the Marine and said, "Oh, I understand. I just love hearing it."

The Marine snapped to attention, saluted, and said, "See you tomorrow, Sir."

The Wizard of Oz

Four United States Presidents got caught up in a tornado and off they whirled to the land of OZ.

They finally made it to the Emerald City and went to find the Great Wizard...

"What brings the four of you before the great Wizard of Oz?"

Jimmy Carter stepped forward timidly: "I've come for some courage."

"No Problem," said the Wizard. "Who's next?"

Richard Nixon stepped forward, and said: "Well, I think I need a heart."

"Done," says the Wizard. "Who comes next before the Great and Powerful Oz?"

Up stepped Bush and said: "The American people say that I need a brain."

"No problem," said the Wizard. "Consider it done."

Then there is a great silence in the hall. Bill Clinton is just standing there, looking around,

But he doesn't say a word. Irritated, the Wizard finally asks, "Well, what do you want?"

"Is Dorothy Here?"
